I. PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H.R. 1416 makes technical corrections to the Homeland Security Act of 2002.

II. BACKGROUND

On November 25, 2002, the President signed into law the Homeland Security Act of 2002—Public Law 107–296. The Act created the Department of Homeland Security with the mission of preventing terrorist attacks within the United States, reducing the United States’ vulnerability to terrorism and minimizing the damage and assisting in recovery from any attacks that do occur, and ensuring that the overall economic security of the United States is not diminished by efforts, activities, and programs aimed at securing the homeland.

As is customary with the drafting of lengthy and complex pieces of legislation, mistakes and omissions are often discovered after the fact. The Homeland Security Act of 2002 was no different. H.R. 1416 intends to correct these mistakes and omissions while adhering to the original intent of Congress at the time the Act was drafted.

III. LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

On March 25, 2003, Representative Chris Cox introduced H.R. 1416, the Homeland Security Technical Corrections Act of 2003, which was referred to the Select Committee on Homeland Security.

The House Select Committee on Homeland Security held a hearing on this legislation on March 28, 2003, and marked-up the legislation on March 31, 2003. The Committee favorably reported the legislation, with one amendment in the nature of a substitute, by voice vote.

The House of Representatives passed the bill by a vote of 415–0 on June 24, 2003. On June 25, 2003, it was received in the Senate and referred to the Governmental Affairs Committee.

On October 22, 2003, the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee considered H.R. 1416. During the mark-up, an amendment was offered by Senators Collins and Lieberman that would add the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee to the reporting requirements of Section 11 of H.R. 1416. The amendment was accepted by voice vote and the bill was reported by voice vote.

IV. SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

Section 1. Short title

This Act may be cited as the “Homeland Security Technical Corrections Act of 2003”.

Section 2. Technical corrections relating to critical infrastructure information

Amends section 212(3) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 by striking “systems—” and inserting “systems insofar as such information pertains to—”.

This additional language is intended to address a grammatical error within Section 212(3) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002. This language is not intended to expand or limit the scope of the definition of “critical infrastructure information” as defined by Section 212(3) or as used in any other section within the Act.

Section 3. Visa issuance

Amends Section 428(a) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 by striking “subsection,” and inserting “section,” and by striking “office” and inserting “officer”.

Section 4. Responsibilities of Under Secretary for Emergency Preparedness and Response

Amends Section 502 of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 by striking “shall include—” and inserting “shall be responsible for—”.

Section 5. Military activities of the Coast Guard

Amends Section 876 of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 by clarifying the roles of the Secretary of Homeland Security and the Secretary of Defense with respect to warfighting, the military defense of the United States, or other military activities. This section specifies that the Homeland Security Act of 2002 does not limit the existing authority of the Secretary of Defense over warfighting, the military defense of the United States, or other military activities including such activities of the Coast Guard when it is operating as a service in the Navy under section 3 of title 14 of the United States Code.

Section 6. Annual independent evaluation of Information Security Program and practices of agencies

Amends 44 U.S.C. 3535(b)(1), as amended by Section 1001(b) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002, by inserting “or any other law” after “the Inspector General Act of 1978,”.

Section 7. Immigration-related powers and duties of the Secretary and the Attorney General

Makes technical and conforming changes to Section 1102 of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 relating to Sections 103 and 287(g) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

Section 8. Effective date of modifications to reorganization plan

Amends Section 1502(d) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 by striking “subsection (d)” each place it appears and inserting “subsection (c)”.

Section 9. Report on war risk insurance for air carriers

Amends Section 1204 of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 by redesignating certain paragraphs, striking “the Secretary” and inserting “the Secretary of Transportation”, and striking “the Department” and inserting “the Department of Transportation”.

Section 10. Authority to arm flight deck crew with less-than-lethal weapons

Amends Section 1405(a) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 by striking “section 6 of this Act” and inserting “section 1406 of this Act”.

Section 11. Requirement to submit reports and notifications to Select Committee

Amends the Homeland Security Act of 2002 by adding a Section 5 to the Homeland Security Act of 2002 requiring that the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee and House Select Committee on Homeland Security be added to all Congressional reporting requirements set forth in the Act.

Section 12. Clarification of reporting requirement concerning electronic Communications Privacy Act emergency disclosure exception

Amends Section 225(d)(2) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 by striking “2702(b) of title 18, United States Code,” and inserting “2702(b)(7) of title 18, United States Code (as added by paragraph (1)(D)),”.

Section 13. Effective date

States that the amendments made by this Act shall take effect as if included in the enactment of the Homeland Security Act of 2002.

V. ESTIMATED COST OF LEGISLATION

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, October 24, 2003.

Hon. SUSAN M. COLLINS,
Chairman, Committee on Governmental Affairs,
U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.

DEAR MADAM CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 1416, the Homeland Security Technical Corrections Act of 2003.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Matthew Pickford.

Sincerely,

ELIZABETH M. ROBINSON
(For Douglas Holtz-Eakin, Director).

Enclosure.

H.R. 1416—Homeland Security Technical Corrections Act of 2003

H.R. 1416 would make technical and clerical amendments to the Homeland Security Act of 2002 and conforming amendments to immigration laws. The legislation also would direct that any reports or notifications required to be submitted to the Congress under that act also be submitted to the Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs and the House Select Committee on Homeland Security. Finally, H.R. 1416 would clarify that nothing in the Homeland Security Act would confer any military authority on the Secretary of Homeland Security or limit the authority of the Secretary of Defense.

CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 1416 would have no significant effect on the federal budget because it would not authorize any new activities for the Department of Homeland Security. Enacting the legislation would not affect direct spending or revenues.

H.R. 1416 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

On April 2, 2003, CBO transmitted a cost estimate for H.R. 1416 as ordered reported by the House Select Committee on Homeland Security. The two versions of the legislation are similar, and our cost estimates are identical.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Matthew Pickford. The estimate was approved by Peter H. Fontaine, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

VI. EVALUATION OF REGULATORY IMPACT

Pursuant to the requirements of paragraph 11(b) of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules of the Senate, the Committee has considered the regulatory impact of this bill. CBO states that there are no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and no costs on state, local, or tribal governments. The legislation contains no other regulatory impact.

VII. ADDITIONAL VIEWS

ADDITIONAL VIEWS OF SENATORS CARL LEVIN, JOSEPH LIEBERMAN, AND DANIEL AKAKA

Section 2 of H.R. 1416 seeks to make a technical correction to section 212(3) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 in the definition provided for the term “critical infrastructure information.” The Committee report states that the additional language inserted into the definition “is intended to address a grammatical error” and “is not intended to expand or limit the scope of the definition of ‘critical infrastructure information’” or to expand or limit how that term is “used in any other section within the Act.” This Committee report language makes it clear that the proposed change is intended to be truly “technical” in nature—to clarify existing law—and not to make any substantive change in the law, and I concur in its import.

The significance of the definition of “critical infrastructure information” lies primarily in how this term affects the scope of the provisions in Section 214 of the Homeland Security Act. Section 214 limits the ability of the Homeland Security Department to use or disclose to other federal and state agencies (and to the public when required by the Freedom of Information Act) a certain narrow category of information termed “critical infrastructure information.” As Sections 212(3) and 214 make clear when read together, the information subject to Section 214’s limitations is information which is not in the public domain, which has been voluntarily submitted to the Department of Homeland Security for use by the Department to secure critical infrastructure from actual or potential attack, and which has been expressly designated by the submitter as protected information under the law. The limitations in Section 214 were constructed to apply to only this narrowly prescribed category of information, which the proposed technical correction helps to delineate. Again, the technical correction is not intended to broaden or narrow the reach of Section 214, but to carry out the original intent of Congress which is to apply Section 214’s limitations to only a certain category of information described with specificity in the statute.

CARL LEVIN.
JOSEPH LIEBERMAN.
DANIEL AKAKA.
