PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

The purpose of H.R. 2383, the “Secure Communities and Safe Schools Act,” is to prevent Federal homeland security grant dollars from being used to purchase firearms or firearm accessories, particularly in schools. The bill would codify restrictions on buying firearms or firearm accessories such as ammunition, in schools or elsewhere, with State Homeland Security Grant Program (SHSGP) or Urban Area Security Initiative (UASI) funds.¹

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

In recent years, there has been an added focus on school security as school shootings have become more prevalent. Estimates show that there were over 23 school shootings in the first part of 2018 alone, which averaged more than one shooting per week.² In total, 113 people were tragically killed or injured in a school shooting last year.³ According to media reports, there were at least 15 school shootings in 2019.⁴ In an effort to improve security in schools, there has been a push to increase funding for school hardening and mental health services.⁵ Some, including President Trump, have proposed allowing Federal dollars to be used to purchase firearms or ammunition to arm teachers.⁶ In fact, at least one state’s governor asked President Trump to look into allowing homeland security grants to be used for this purpose.⁷ Some states, such as Florida, have moved forward with plans to arm teachers in school,⁸ despite the fact that teachers⁹ and families¹⁰ overwhelmingly oppose arming teachers in schools.

Arming teachers is not only opposed by school workers and families but could result in schools being less safe and secure as teachers are not trained law enforcement.¹¹ Over the past five years, there have been over 65 documented instances of guns being mishandled in schools.¹² There is some evidence that the availability of firearms is closely related to childhood gun fatalities.¹³

SHSGP is used to assist State, tribal, and local governments with preparedness activities that address high-priority preparedness gaps across all core capabilities where a nexus to terrorism exists. UASI assists high-threat, high-density urban areas to build and sustain the capabilities necessary to prevent, protect against, mitigate, respond to, and recover from terrorist attacks. These grants were established to bolster terrorism preparedness and response capabilities in the wake of the terrorist attacks on the United States on September 11, 2001. In its seminal report, the National Commission on Terrorist Attacks Upon the United States (also referred to as the 9/11 Commission) recommended that Congress provide funding, based on risk and vulnerability, to support state and local efforts to develop robust preparedness and response capabilities.¹⁴ The Committee has received hearing testimony from witnesses stating that while the current grants help recipients make critical investments in their homeland security preparedness, more money is needed to protect against the current, evolving threat landscape.¹⁵ Although buying firearms with these funds is currently disallowed by FEMA through administrative actions, this bill will make clear for this and future Administrations that Congress will not allow limited terrorism preparedness and response grants to be diverted to purchase firearms, especially in schools.

Language prohibiting the use of UASI and SHSGP grants from purchasing firearms and firearm accessories has received bipartisan support as recently as the 115th Congress. The text of this legislation was included in H.R. 4627, the “Shielding Public Spaces from Vehicular Terrorism Act,” introduced by then-Representative Dan Donovan (R-NY), which passed out of the Committee on Homeland Security unanimously and passed the then-Republican-controlled House by a voice vote. Additionally, a bill introduced by Representative John Rutherford (R-FL), the “STOP School Violence Act of 2018,” that barred a Department of Justice school safety grant program from being used to purchase firearms or firearms trainings was included in legislation that was signed into law.¹⁶

H.R. 2383 is supported by the National Association of School Resource Officers.

COMMITTEE CONSIDERATION

The Committee met on May 15, 2019, with a quorum being present, to consider H.R. 2383 and ordered the measure to be reported to the House with a favorable recommendation, without amendment, by voice vote.

COMMITTEE VOTES

Clause 3(b) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives requires the Committee to list the recorded votes on the motion to report legislation and amendments thereto.

No recorded votes were requested during consideration of H.R. 2383.

COMMITTEE OVERSIGHT FINDINGS

In compliance with clause 3(c)(1) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee advises that the findings and recommendations of the Committee, based on oversight activities under clause 2(b)(1) of rule X of the Rules of the House of Representatives, are incorporated in the descriptive portions of this report.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE ESTIMATE, NEW BUDGET AUTHORITY, ENTITLEMENT AUTHORITY, AND TAX EXPENDITURES

With respect to the requirements of clause 3(c)(2) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives and section 308(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 and with respect to requirements of clause (3)(c)(3) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives and section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Committee adopts as its own the estimate of the estimate of new budget authority, entitlement authority, or tax expenditures or revenues contained in the cost estimate prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office.

H.R. 2383 would prohibit federal funds provided by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) under two of the agency's grant programs (the State Homeland Security Grant Program and the Urban Areas Security Initiative) from being used to purchase firearms or ammunition for use by teachers.

According to FEMA, the agency's current guidance and policies prohibit the use of grants to purchase weapons and ammunition. As a result, CBO estimates that H.R. 2383 would have no effect on the federal budget.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Jon Sperl. The estimate was reviewed by H. Samuel Papenfuss, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

FEDERAL MANDATES STATEMENT

The Committee adopts as its own the estimate of Federal mandates prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 423 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

DUPLICATIVE FEDERAL PROGRAMS

Pursuant to clause 3(c) of rule XIII, the Committee finds that H.R. 2383 does not contain any provision that establishes or reauthorizes a program known to be duplicative of another Federal program.

PERFORMANCE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The Committee states that pursuant to clause 3(c)(4) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, H.R. 2383 would require FEMA to continue its policy disallowing UASI or SHSGP funding to be used to purchase firearms or firearm accessories.

ADVISORY ON EARMARKS

In compliance with rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, this bill, as reported, contains no congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits as defined in clause 9(d), 9(e), or 9(f) of the rule XXI.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS OF THE LEGISLATION

Section 1. Short title

This section provides that this bill may be cited as the Secure Communities and Safe Schools Act".

Sec. 2. Prohibition on expenditure of certain Homeland Security grant funds to purchase firearms

This section would codify current FEMA grant guidance restrictions on buying firearms or firearm accessories such as ammunition, in schools or elsewhere, with SHSGP or UASI grant funds.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW MADE BY THE BILL, AS REPORTED

In compliance with clause 3(e) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, changes in existing law made by the bill, as reported, are shown as follows (new matter is printed in italic and existing law in which no change is proposed is shown in roman):

MINORITY VIEWS

While the purchase of firearms or firearms accessories or the purchase of ammunition is not permitted under the State Homeland Security Grant Program (SHSGP) or under the Urban Area Security Initiative (UASI) Grant Program currently, that prohibition is solely based on policy and not as a matter of law.

We are concerned that codifying this prohibition into law would eliminate any future flexibilities for state and local law enforcement to address specific threats of terrorism. Congress should encourage these communities to come up with appropriate solutions to stop violent acts instead of preemptively limiting their options.

The threat landscape is constantly evolving and it is imperative that those receiving SHSGP or UASI grant funding should be able to accommodate accordingly.

Ranking Member.
